The Teacher.
A man with the future of the world in the palm of his hand.

He is an artist.
He molds, shapes, paints.
He creates.

He is a builder.
He lays the foundations
of our future cities.
Cities composed of the matter
that is our minds.

He is a playwright.
Producing the scenes
that stage a climax which brings about
a catharsis in the audience.
A change of emotion and thought which mature us into men with ideals.

SENIORS

The Senior
A young Don Quixote,
He dreams of a world
so different to that of his father.

He is a wanderer,
never knowing where
he will be tomorrow.
But tomorrow is still a vision.

While yesterday is only a dream.

Today is a harsh reality.
Yet today becomes yesterday
and tomorrow becomes today.
But today well-lived
makes every yesterday
a dream of happiness,
and every tomorrow
a vision of hope.

The Underclassman.
A wonderer.
Never knowing all the answers, yet thinking he does.

Never sure of others,
but confident in himself, he always questions the set standards of his time.

Yet his youth is
his advantage.
He has all the time
in the world to think.

And what a beautiful existence that would be.
Just to sit and wonder about all that is around you.

You would know the secret of death.

But how shall you find it unless you seek it in the heart of life?

The owl whose night-bound eyes are blind unto the day cannot unveil the mystery of light.

If you would indeed behold the spirit of death, open your heart wide unto the body of life.

For life and death are one,
even as the river and sea
are one.*

“... he learns to give,
he aches, he learns to live ...”*

*Joni Mitchell; “The Dawntreader”

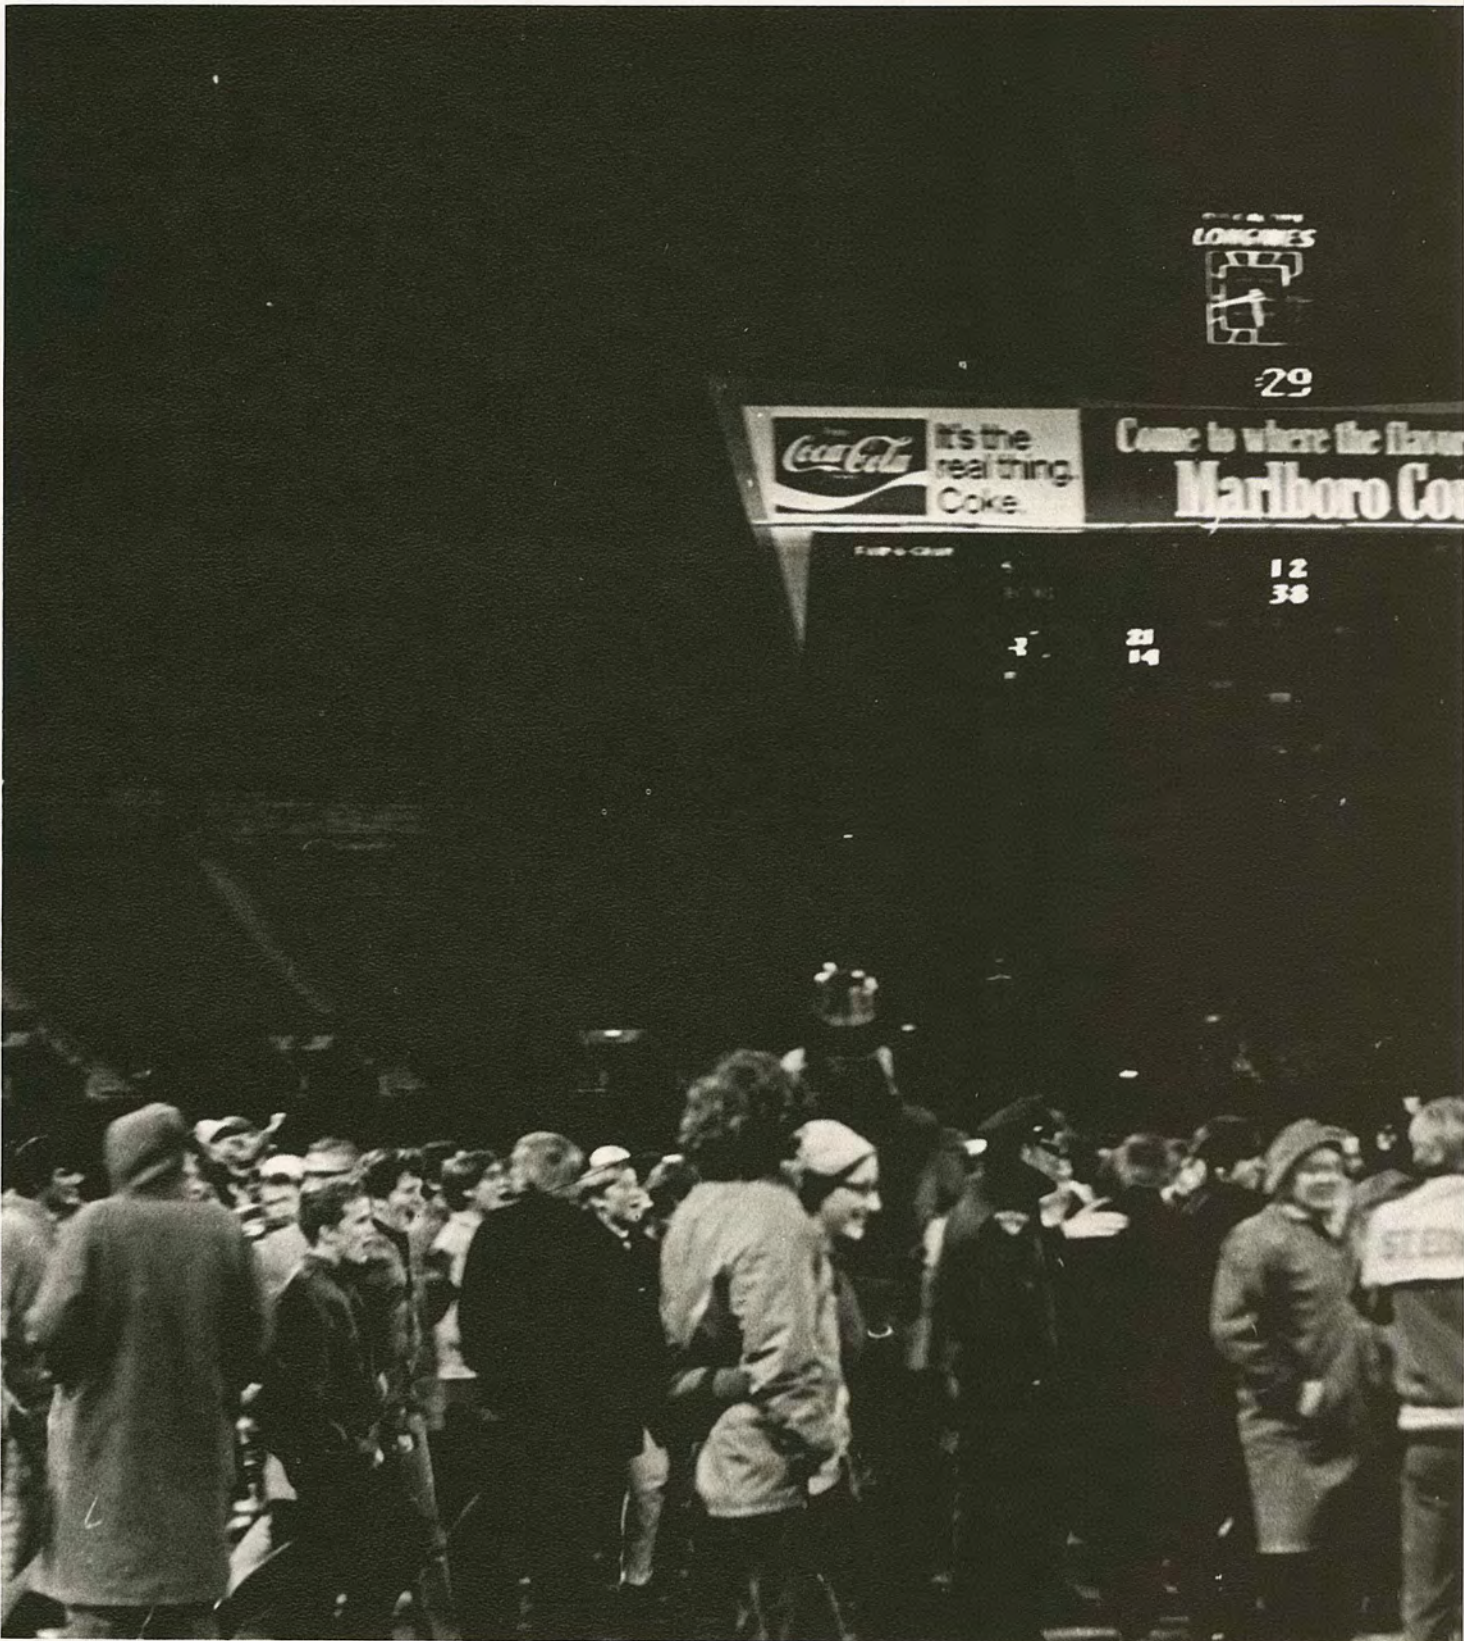

Together as we were gathered
The first time in our short life,
It meant something.
More to us than to the team.
But, in a sense, we were the team.

In three days
A temple that was crumbling
In our very midst
Was rebuilt into A fortress of Strength,
Unity,
And Caring.

We didn't believe what was happening.
It was too fast,
Too much,
In such a short time.

But time was on our side.
And so was Fate.

Monday — Teachers Care

Tuesday — Seniors Care

Wednesday — We Care

Wednesday.

We had Mass.

We sang to Fred Ost's Restaurant.

We cheered.

We remember.

Thursday — Preparation.

Friday — A night of records.

We beat Cathedral Latin, 111-66

Fred Ost was named P.D. Coach of the Year.

Then the bonfire that we spent all day building.

The biggest in the history of St. Ed's,

It took a long time lighting, but the flames lasted till the morn.

Saturday — 21-14

We beat the odds; we beat the pessimists;

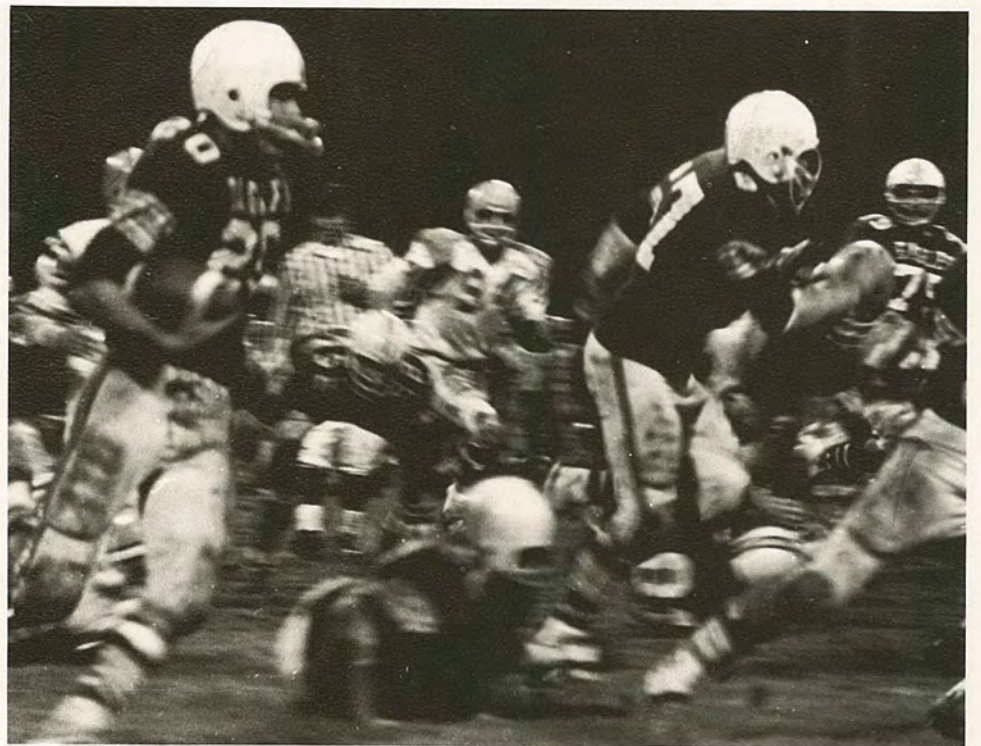

We beat Joes.

We remembered.

And on Sunday . . .

We rested.

memory is a wine that grows
sweeter with age

LET US DRINK TO VICTORY.

ARSENIC and old lace

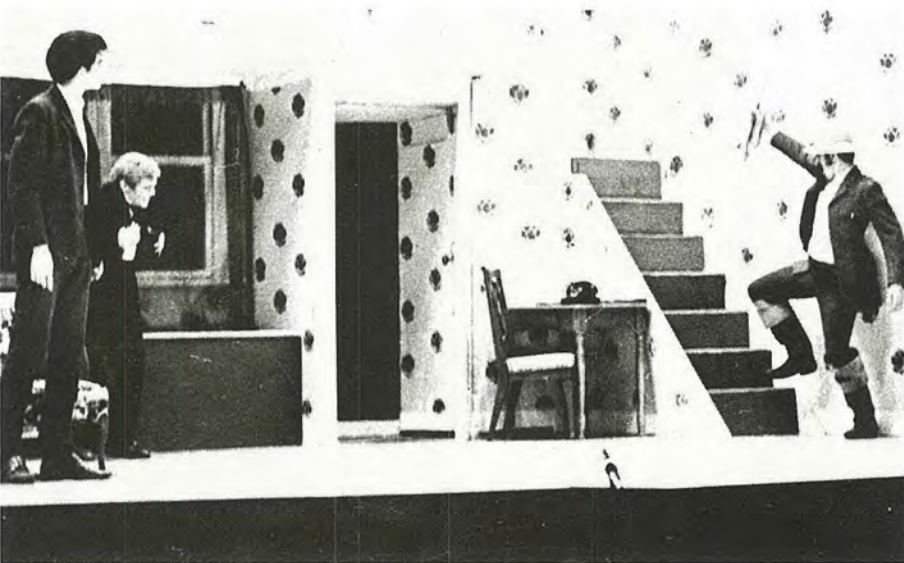

"... humor is the great thing,
the saving thing, after all.

The minute it crops up
all our hardinesses yield,

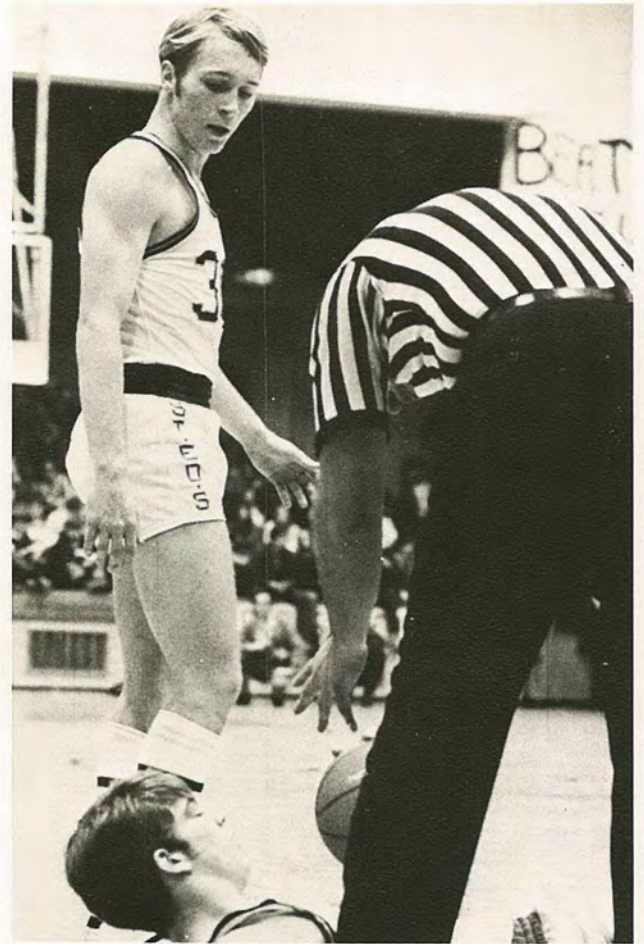

and all our irritations
and resentments slip away,

and a sunny spirit
takes their place.”*

the year
of the eagle
is proven . . .

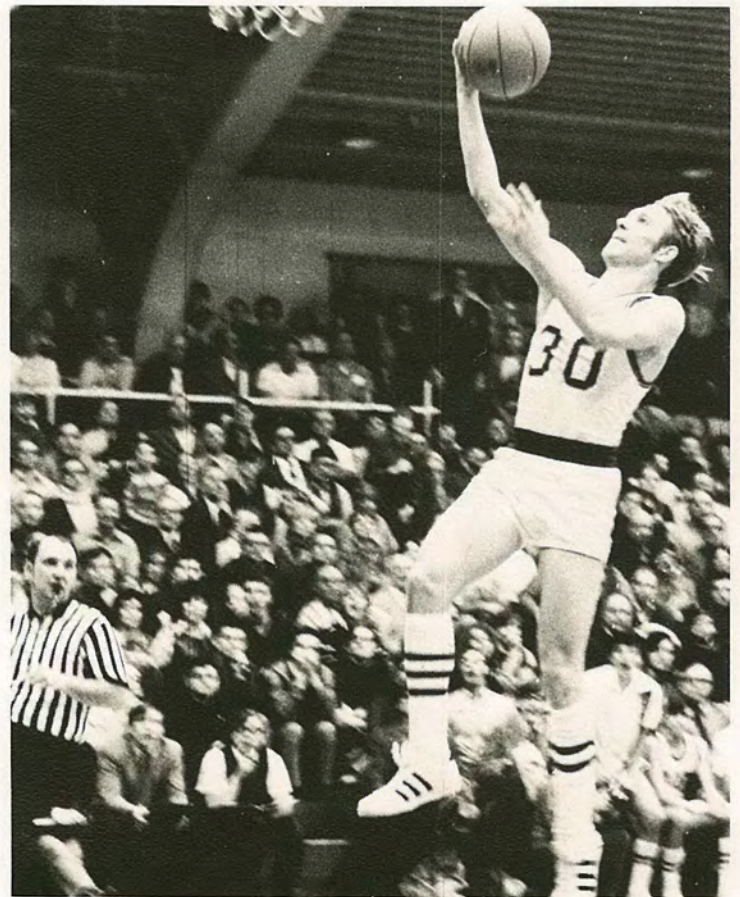

It is very unusual for a school to gain so much momentum that it can't stop.

However, St. Ed's is very unusual.

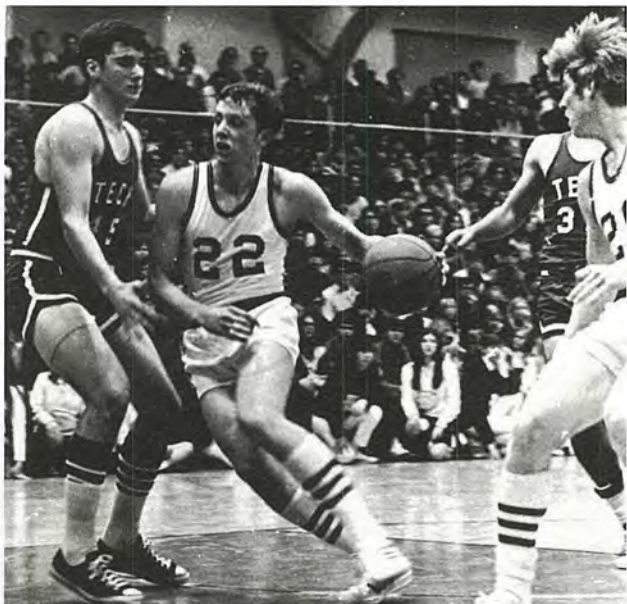

We walked around like human mirrors, reflecting our pride in the team after their victories over West Tech and Latin.

Us — 84 Tech — 69
Us — 111 Latin — 66

. . . SO FAR . . .

All five starters were Seniors.

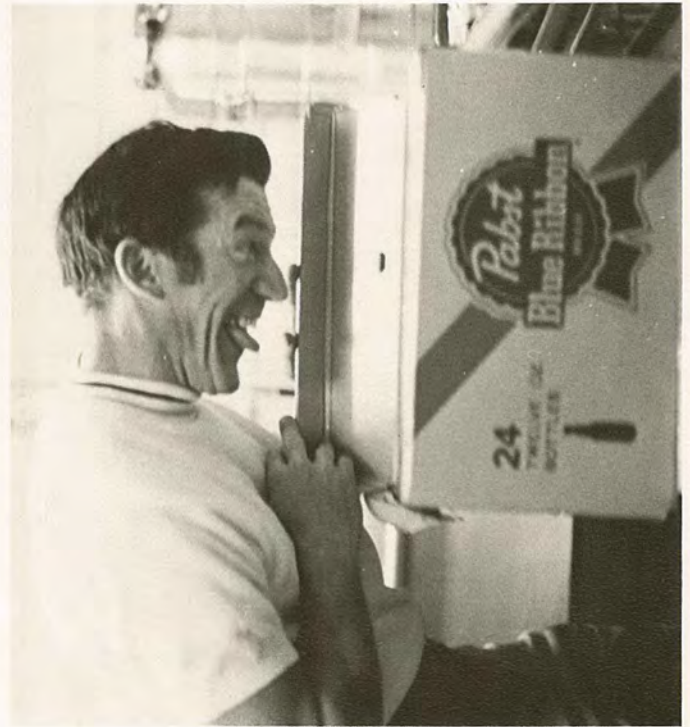

It made '71 very proud. We had guys on the bench who could have been starters at any other school in the city.

That's how good we were.

We even beat Shaw and East Tech in scrimmages before the season.

The Year of the Eagle proven . . . so far . . .

... and the lambent flame of pride made way for the fire of genius.

IT TAKES COURAGE TO SHOW . . .

... appreciation

april

my fair lady

Three months of hard labor
for three nights of perfection.

Two hundred people,
the biggest cast ever.
They had a message
to deliver.

For those who
viewed the performance,
it was an enjoyable evening of
song, dance,
and acting.

For those who were in the cast,
it was fun,
togetherness,
a goal . . .
something called community.

But there was another side
to My Fair Lady.
It was the story itself.

No use relating the tale.
It is better
to realize
what the message is rather than how it was sent.

It is not the way
we are,
but the way we are treated by those whose way is different.

The audience didn't realize what the cast had told them. They were too intent upon the perfection of the performance.

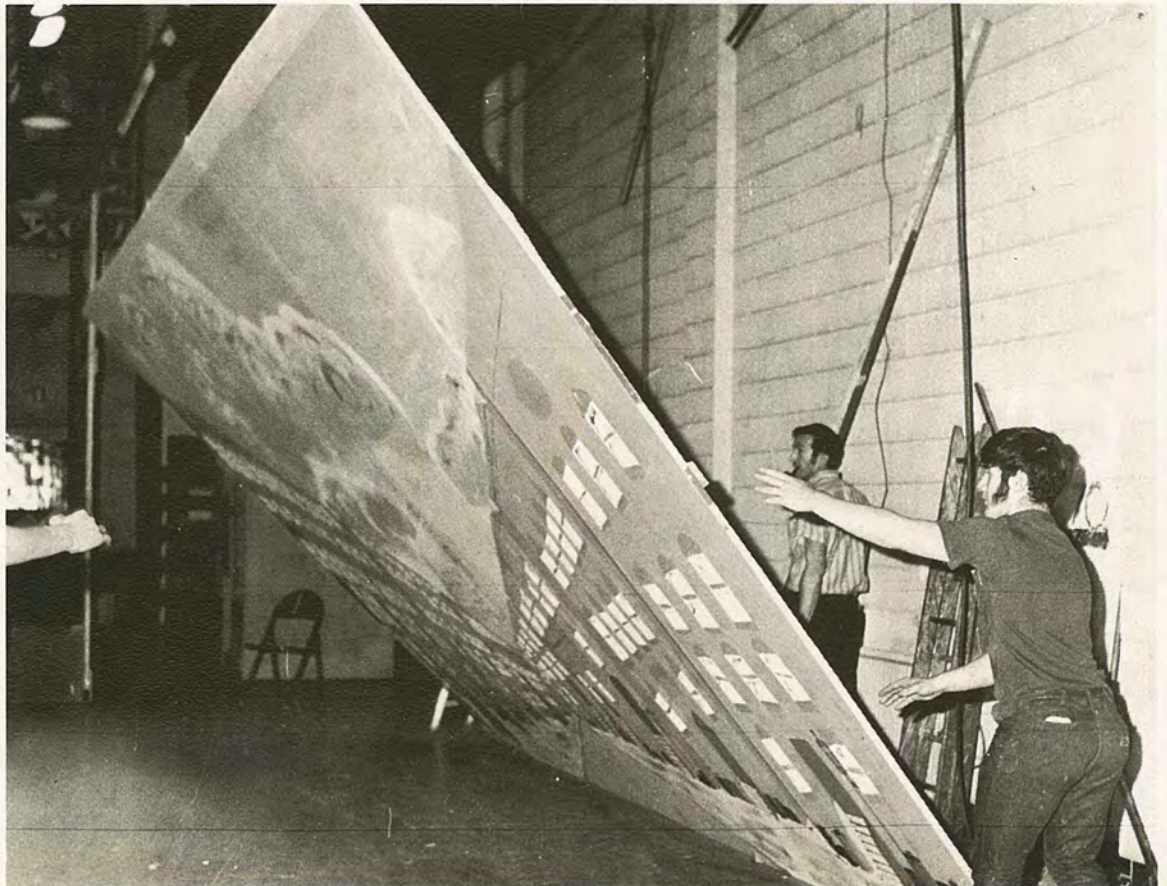

Even most of the cast did not realize what they had said. They were too engrossed in perfecting their way.

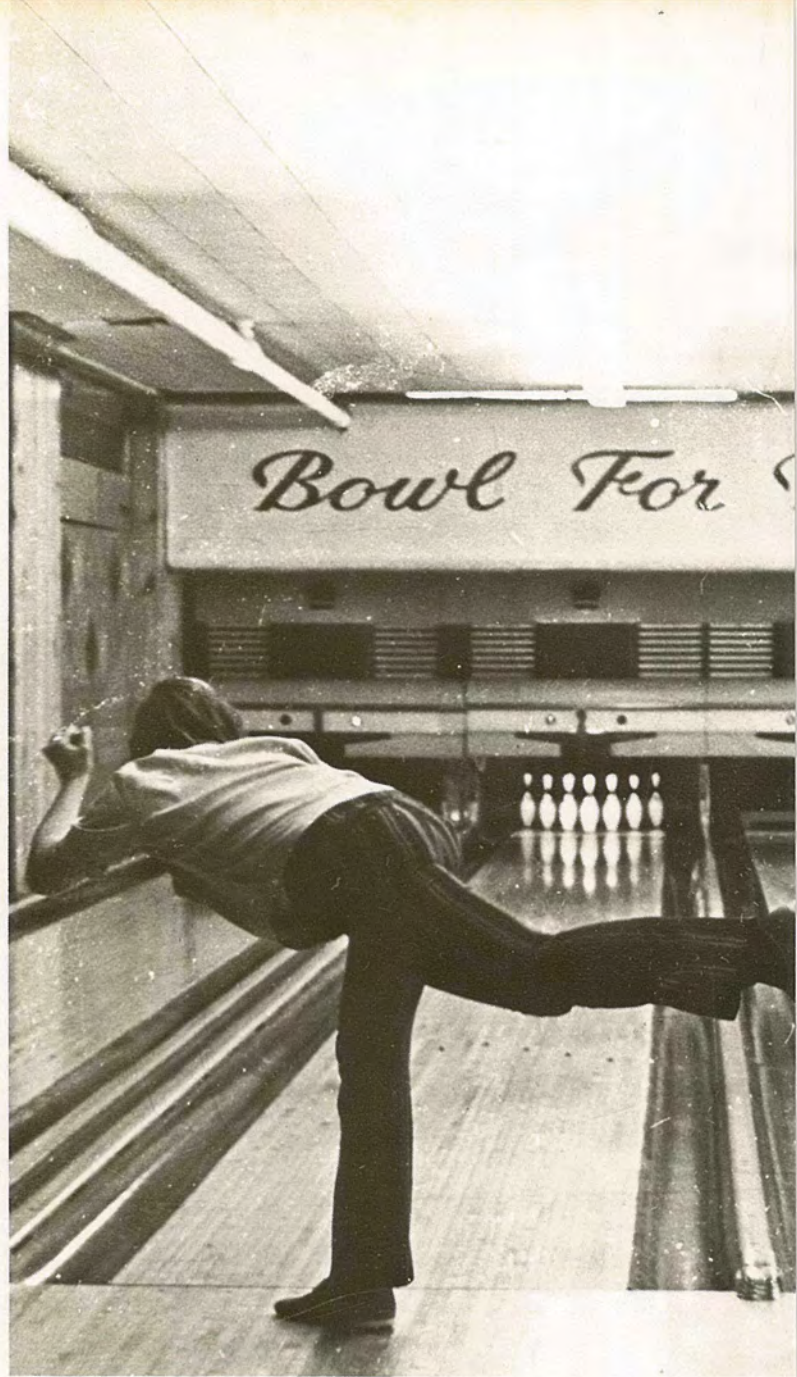

But it was there.
It was hanging loose
in the atmosphere
of music and applause.

We are ordinary men.
With the message
that is always within our reach,
let us grasp its essence.
And with a little bit o' luck,
let our children
say to us
"You did it!"

...GAVE
JOY TO

may

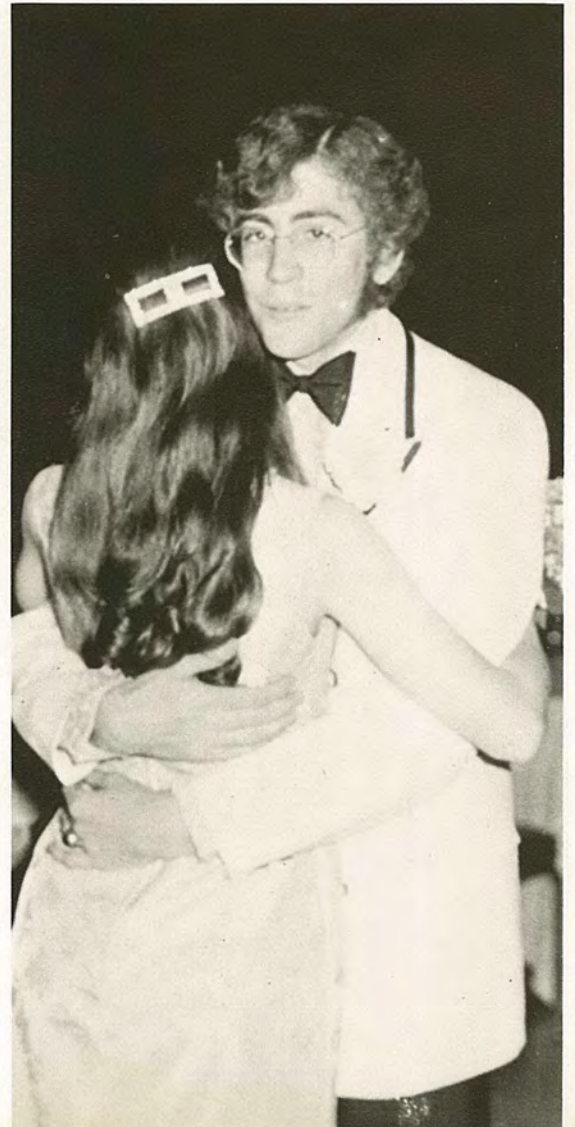

It seemed a waste
getting all dressed up,
dishing out all that money
just for one night.
But when you are out
with someone truly special,
you don't mind at all.

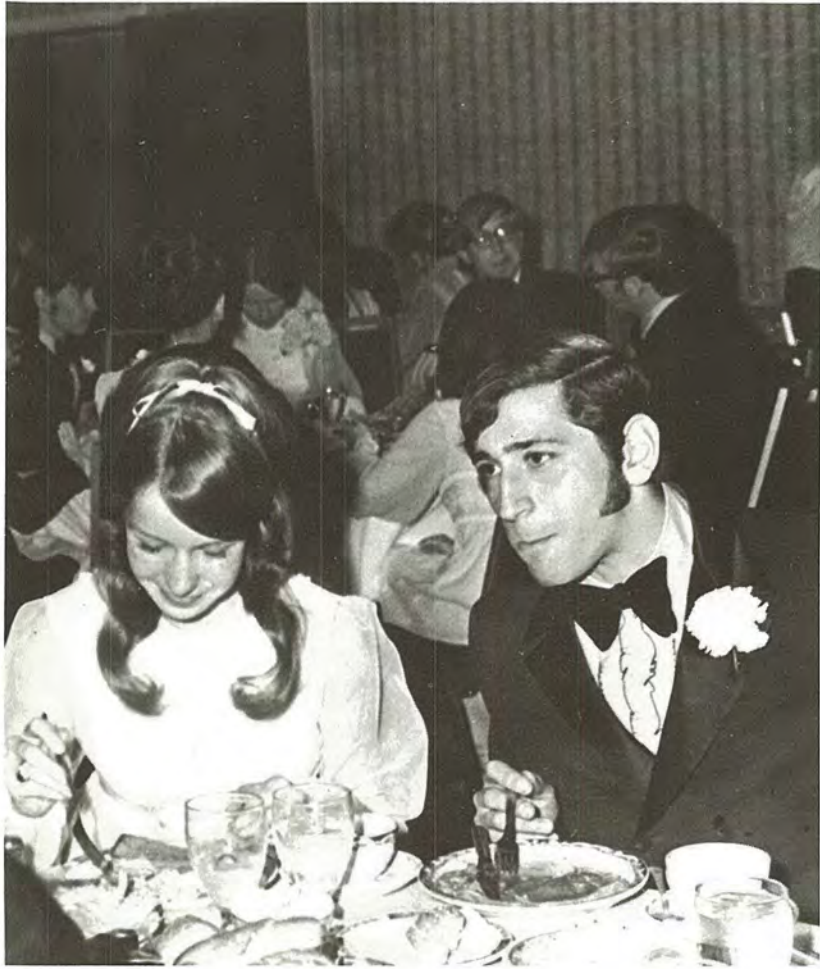

Decorations weren't much.
Only a few reminders
of the "Gay Nineties,"
but taking that garter off your girl's leg put you in just the right mood . . .
for the "Gay Nineties", that is.

Dinner wasn't too bad . . .
wasn't that great either,
but it saved us a little money.

The chaperons had their own little prom
in the back of the ballroom.
They didn't even bother us
all night . . .
except at times
when we had to chaperon them.

SENIOR prom

To think it was the last big event
that awaited our attention,
there wasn't much else
to look forward to
for the rest of the year.

It was a culmination of four years of extracurricular enjoyment . . .
and the seniors were authorities
on that subject.

It was worth it.

OUR ENERGY WAS EVERYWHERE

and we WERE GREAT

GRADUATION

The light of the room dimmed
and the flame extinguished itself.
To relight it would be a sacrilege.

We did things
that no other class
would dare.
At times
we asserted our presence
with doubtful means,
and,

at other times,
someone was the thunder
while we were the lightning.
Mark Twain said,
"Thunder is good,
thunder is impressive,
but it is lightning that does the work."

The last few days
were lived to the fullest.
We flew to magnificent heights
on the back of the great bird . . .
what a way to go.
Most of us said
It's good to get out.
We realized that four years
was just enough to make our presence felt in a way
that only the class of '71 knew how.

So many things could be said about what we accomplished.
But it is better
to build upon
the foundations of our minds,
than to live in the cellars
of our memories.

We have the rest of our lives.

FOR all that has BEEN . . .
thanks
